PRASADI ACADEMY

Secondary School, Lalitpur, Nepal

MESSAGE FROM THE SCHOOL CHIEF

"It is the supreme art of the teacher to awaken joy in creative expression and knowledge." - Albert Einstein

Knowledge serves as the cornerstone of progress and development in every society. It empowers individuals to dream, innovate and create positive change in the world. As we celebrate Prasadi Academy's achievement for being awarded as "Rank 1, National Educational Award" on the occasion of National Education Day, 2080 by the Government of Nepal, Ministry of education, Science and technology for its overall outstanding performance in Grade XII among private schools in Nepal. Let us also reflect on the broader significance of knowledge and its profound impact on our lives and society.

Along with academic knowledge, the purpose of education is to inculcate humanitarian values like independence, compassion, courage, humanity, integrity, and reliability in students. With the establishment of Indira Voice Club (IVC) in 2079, Prasadi Academy gradually entered a new saga of providing our students with a platform where they can explore their curiosity and freely express themselves through creative mediums.

I am delighted to witness the amount of passion Prasadians have shown towards IVC. The events conducted by the club are definitely the major highlights of our academic session. I was impressed by their sense of self-awareness as well as social awareness when they successfully collaborated and initiated the "SAY NO TO BULLYING" campaign with the school administration. The way Miss. Prabha Thapa took the lead and guided them through this new venture is a testament to our slogan, "Where Care is Culture". I hope we will effectively keep this spirit alive.

Prasadi Academy progressively aims to establish benchmarks in academic excellence and holistic care to help our students meet the career challenges of increasingly globalized economic conditions. I acknowledge our students, parents, guardians, teaching and non-teaching staff, and society in general as our stakeholders for their continuous faith and support in taking this institution to greater heights by enabling us to win the "Rank 1, National Educational Award" for five times. May this achievement inspire us all to embrace the transformative power of knowledge and strive for excellence in everything we do.

I would like to assure you of the quality education needed to address the demands of society in the future.

Every year, I feel extremely pleased and privileged to be a part of our annual school souvenir. I want to offer special thanks to the editorial team, faculties, and students for bringing out this souvenir. On behalf of the institution, I express my wholehearted appreciation to all for their invaluable work and contribution in bringing 'Prasadi Souvenir 2080' to this form.

I wish you all a great future.

Thank you!

TO FLY LIKE A BIRD

Gazing upon the sun setting,
Clouds slowly take over the sky.
The feeling of serenity and euphoria, working together,
As I watch the birds fly.
Birds flying back to the green,
Flying away from the hills,
Making me wonder if there's anything they haven't seen.
Watching them soar their wings,
Nothing in the world has the power to stop them.
Perching down, cutting the rain,
Tracing circles on clear days,
Proceeding wherever the wind says.
Making the sky their own road,
Marking their landing on the plains.
Everything makes me wonder!
How would it feel to fly like a bird?
Without a care in the world,
Than to survive.
How do they fly and find a place,
And dive into nothingness, feeling so alive?
To fly would be to disappear for a while.
How would it feel to choose to be free?
To see the two lives collide!

PROUD TO BE A PRASADIAN

"Life is a challenge; meet it. Life is a dream; realize it. Life is a game; play it. Life is love; feel it."

Prasadi Academy was never an option for me. It's the place where I realized the exact meaning of discipline, punctuality, and success and completed my higher secondary education with joy, happiness, struggle, and many beautiful memories. I will miss the days with homework, the pressure of arriving at school on time, and the moments enjoyed at the picnic. I will mostly miss our teachers scolding us for gossiping, laughing, and having fun with my friends in class. I will cherish some of our teachers' teaching techniques, talks, and jokes, mainly GT Sir, SH Sir, BPP Sir, and YP Sir. I will miss the people I met in these two years—my friends and some of my juniors. The journey of two years from online classes to offline classes in Prasadi will be remembered.

Within the blink of an eye, the journey has come to an end. The time went on and on, and now I will be called an Ex- Prasadian. I didn't realize we were making memories. I just knew I was having fun. Being a part of Prasadi without any regrets has been a great experience for me.

A LETTER OF GRATITUDE

Dear readers,

As I look back on my college journey, I am filled with gratitude for the experiences I have had and the people I have met along the way.

From the excitement of my first day at college to the challenges and triumphs of my academic journey, college has been a time of growth and transformation for me. I have learned so much, not just from my teachers and textbooks but also from the many diverse perspectives of my friends.

As I prepare to move on to the next chapter of my life, I am confident that the lessons I learned here will serve me well. I am grateful for the friendships I have made, the mentors who have guided me, and the opportunities that have come my way.

To my fellow graduates, I wish you all the best in your future endeavors. May you continue to learn, grow, and make a positive impact on the world. And to those who supported us along the way, thank you for your unwavering support and encouragement.

Farewell, Prasadi Academy! It has been a privilege to be part of your community.

HIGH SCHOOL DAYS

Everyone in the class of 2080 was excited to arrive at Prasadi on the first day. I view my entry as fortunate and privileged. There were thoughts and curiosity going through my head regarding the academy because of how much I had already heard about the institution.

Our batch was fortunate compared to the prior two batches because COVID-19 held us at home, taking online classes for the first half of our year. Physical lessons began on Kartik 26th. From there, things changed in my life. I had to change my daily routine, and I did quite well. Teachers were different from those at other high schools. They teach and help students learn until they understand the concept. One thing I learned early was that self-study is a must. Our classrooms had a competitive atmosphere from the start. Due to this, pupils studied more. During break time, we used to get out of classes and run down the stairs to the ground. Topics ranging from studies to politics, love, history, etc. were discussed. All of a sudden, somebody would start singing, and it would be so joyful.

As I approached the 12th grade, I saw how quickly a year had passed in front of our eyes. Time seems to move in this manner. When we have it, it feels slow, and when it escapes our grasp, all we can do is think about it. I was looking out the window one day when I realized how much time I had lost by being late and sitting in the late room. I learned a lesson there, and I made a commitment to arrive at school on time, which changed everything.

Well, writing down all of my experiences isn't possible. Yet, I can assure you that every experience was enriching. The entire Academy felt like a family, so they say, "Where care is culture". IVC (Indira Voice Club), under the teamwork of its members, ran successfully. Several programs were effectively organized. I consider myself fortunate to be here, as it's unusual to have a club like this in Prasadi. The flower display was spectacular. PT ma'am played a critical role in making them possible. For one reason or another, Prasadians will always remember their journey. It has now evolved into a fresh sense of nostalgia.

FRIENDSHIP

Friendship is a state of enduring affection, intimacy, and trust between two people. It is the strongest form of interpersonal bond other than an acquaintance or an association. 'Friend' is another word for love, care, support, etc. Friends are those who love you endlessly and unconditionally. Even when you're wrong, friends show you the right path and patiently wait until you find your way. It's a forever kind of thing.

No matter how far away you are, true friends are always there for you. Friendship doesn't see colour, caste, money, behaviour, or face; the bond is made with a pure heart. If you and your friends have trust, compassion, honesty, respect, and love, you already have the foundation of a strong and healthy connection. Friends are the main supporters of our success in life. They motivate you and understand you. They understand the depth of your silence better than words and help shape your personality.

Friendship is the best gift God has given to mankind. Albert Einstein said, "Making a million friends is not a miracle; the miracle is to make one such friend who will stand by you when millions are against you."

MY EXPERIENCE OF EXPLORING PRASADI

Little did I know that exploring Prasadi would become an inseparable part of my journey. It is a pleasure to share that the last two years were the most memorable years of my life. They have been filled with wonderful memories and valuable lessons. I personally found my experience to be one of massive personal growth and self-discovery. Prasadi helped me grow in different dimensions and showed me much more than academic growth.

While it was challenging at times, I certainly learned a lot. For high school as a whole, if you develop good academic habits in your early days, you will be better prepared for the later years. In the end, the high school experience will be different for everyone. I have learned so much about myself and the world around me that I will always reflect fondly on how they have shaped me as a person. Prasadi is a place to flourish.

To everyone experiencing Prasadi, best of luck! Work hard, have fun, and believe that high school and life itself have exciting, unexpected, and wonderful ways of coming together in the end.

INDIRA VOICE CLUB (IVC): THE NEW BEGINNING OF PRASADI

Emerging into its 25th year of academic excellence, Prasadi Academy established its first-ever student forum, Indira Voice Club (IVC). A historic moment was created on the 18th Bhadra, 2079, that marked a new era of student involvement in school affairs. With the purpose of involving student bodies in the conduct of school activities and creating a smooth interaction between the student body and the management, a 23-member committee was formed under the guidance of our honorable Chief Sir, Mr. Bikram Rai, and our beloved Prabha Thapa ma'am.

The club was formed under the leadership of Master Subikhyat Jung K.C. as the IVC president, followed by Miss Asmita Shrestha and Miss Akrishta Ale as the Vice presidents of the club. The club was further followed by Master Ankit Karki as the General Secretary, Miss Shristi Gurung as the Vice General Secretary, Miss Nashmita Rayamajhi as the Treasurer, Master Rahul Yadav and Miss Gaurisha Malla Shrestha as the Club Coordinating Chairperson, and finally Miss Subeha Pandey, Master Sulakshan Bahadur Singh, Miss Surabi Adai Thapa, Master Sanket Shrestha, Miss Dikshya Sanjel, Miss Aanchal Adhikari, Master Sushreen Raj Subedi, Master Saurav Neupane, Miss Gorashika Thapa, Miss Kenisha Thapa, Master Badal Gupta, Master Anjay Sah, Miss Puspanjali Sah, Miss Shrity Jha and Master Aayush Kumar Mishra as the Executive Members of the committee. The club was further expanded by the addition of new Class Representatives from Grade 11.

The club frequently coordinated and finally started its official work with the first-ever program conducted by the students. "Flowers Day, 2079," was held successfully (17th Kartik, 2079) with the participation of more than 300 students who presented the beautiful plants that they had nurtured themselves. Some of the best flowers were selected on the basis of their evidence and efforts, which were judged by our experts and awarded a certificate of appreciation.

The club addressed the ongoing problem of bullying that many students tend to face, whether physically within the school premises or online through various social media platforms. A team of IVC members went around all 33 sections of Grades 11 and 12 with pamphlets regarding bullying and the helpline services established by the school for the ease of students. In coordination with the school administration, IVC launched the "SAY NO TO BULLYING" campaign with the motive of addressing and eradicating the issue. A Poetry Festival event was also organized by the club (23rd Mangsir, 2079). For this, students from both Grades 11 and 12 participated by submitting their poems. A selection round was held, and the best poems were recited. The competition was a great success, with the participation of more than 35 students in the final round in the presence of our Chief Sir. The competition was fairly judged by our honorable English and Nepali department teachers. The winner of this competition was Miss Aachal Adhikari of Grade 12, followed by Master Subikhyat Jung K.C. as the First runner-up from Grade 12, and Master Aayush Basnet as the second runner-up from Grade 11.

Similarly, an Essay Writing Event was also held (1st Magh, 2079), with the victorious win of Master Ankit Karki of Grade 12, followed by Master Subikhyat Jung K.C. of Grade 12 as the First Runner Up, and Master Aashish Adhikari of Grade 12 as the Second Runner Up. Finally, a Public Speaking Event was organized (8th–12th Magh, 2079), comprising more than 40 students. Among them, 20 students were selected for the final round. The competition was a huge success and was concluded by declaring Miss Prerana Basnet of Grade 12 as the Winner, Followed by Master Sushreen Raj Subedi of Grade 12 as the First runner-up, and Miss Sarigam Rai of Grade 12 as the Second runner-up.

4 members of IVC: Subikhyat, Sushreen, Asmita, and Aanchal, under the mentorship of Miss Prabha Thapa, teamed up and splendidly took a short and sweet interview of the renowned Nepali researcher, social entrepreneur, and activist, Mr. Mahabir Pun, by visiting his workplace, i.e., Rashtriya Aabiskar Kendra(27th Poush, 2079). The interview session was fruitful and was taken for publication in the Annual souvenir of Prasadi Academy.

IVC has not only given us a sense of leadership but also taught us numerous life lessons. As the first batch that had the privilege of building and engaging with the club, we would like to extend our heartfelt gratitude to Prabha Thapa Ma'am for being our support system and to each and every administrative staff member for making this journey remarkable in the history of Prasadi Academy.

On behalf of IVC, I would like to wish our beloved batchmates the best of luck for a better future ahead. To my lovely Juniors, just stay positive, calm, and joyful, and have a great experience in high school. Last but not least, I'd like to congratulate the entire Prasadi team for accomplishing 26 years of academic excellence! Thank you, Prasadi, for this wonderful opportunity. You will be remembered and deeply missed!

HOPE

Oh hope, thou art a flame that burns so bright,
A beacon in the darkest, bleakest night,
Thy gentle touch can soothe the troubled soul,
and make the wounded heart once more whole.
When all seems lost and life is filled with strife,
Thou bringest forth the promise of new life.
A ray of sunshine in the midst of rain,
A balm to soothe the heart's enduring pain.
Thy voice is like a sweet, melodious song,
That lifts the spirit and helps it be strong,
Thy gentle hand can guide us on our way,
And light the path to a brighter day.
With thee, dear hope, all things are possible,
The future is bright, and life is beautiful.
For in thy presence, there is no despair,
Only the promise of life, so fair.
So let us hold thee close and never let go,
And with thy help, we'll face each ebb and flow,
For with thee, dear hope, we have all we need,
A life of joy, love, and endless deeds.

A LIFETIME OF RECUERDOS AT PRASADI

My brother, Milan Jaiswal, studied at Prasadi Academy and received a scholarship for MBBS. He inspired me to follow in his footsteps. Now, my journey has come to an end. It's time to head down a different path, which wouldn't be possible without Prasadi. This is a place where you not only become educated but also learn to be independent, confident and understand the value of time. From the fun times and giggles shared during our 20-minute break with our teachers to the wild dance on the picnic, it was worth it. Exam results, anxiety and excitement at the same time, feeling sleepy inside the class, and unexpected bag checking are some of the remarkable moments of my high school experience. I am forever going to cherish the smiles of GT sir and URT sir, the jokes of RPY sir, the teaching by Hamal sir, and the motivational speeches by AKK sir. It's impossible to forget Panthi sir and Govind sir calling me "JAISAWAL".

By enjoying each moment and coping with the harsh situations, we have managed to end our journey here. THANK YOU, PRASADI! I am proud to be a Prasadian and it is an honor to be part of the Prasadi souvenir.

SELF-LOVE

Love is the only thing that keeps us going.
Make us less automated in a world that requires thinking.
Do we produce enough for ourselves?
It's time to embrace your strengths and weaknesses.
Self-love is learning to be kind to yourself.
It's putting yourself first and not being tough on yourself.
Focus on the positives and the things that you love.
You will see a transformation, like a winged dove.
Let's get out of the doubts and the negative chatter.

Eventually, things change, and bad times don't matter.
Self-love is a journey that people must take.
A decision that people from different perspectives must make.
Self-love is the greatest love of all.
It is a journey of acceptance, and you're not alone in the crawl.
Put yourself a little higher on your priority list.
To live your lives with joy and peace at their best.

VALUE YOURSELF

A speaker started off his seminar by showing a $20 bill to the public. He asked, "Who wants this?" It was no surprise to see that everyone lifted their hands. He offered to give the money to one of them but insisted that he would do something with it.

He took out a new bill and crumpled it. He showed it to the crowd and repeated the question. Again, everyone raised their hands. He then put the money into the ground, stepped on it, raised it again, and offered it to the public. People gathered there still showed interest in taking that money, despite seeing how dirty the note was. He told the crowd, No matter what I did to this money, you still wanted this. You all went in favor of my offer just because the value of the money stayed the same despite what I did to it. Similarly, value yourself despite painful conditions or failures."

Moral: Value yourself irrespective of failures or obstacles. Don't degrade yourself just because of temporary setbacks. Believe in yourself and work hard to achieve success.

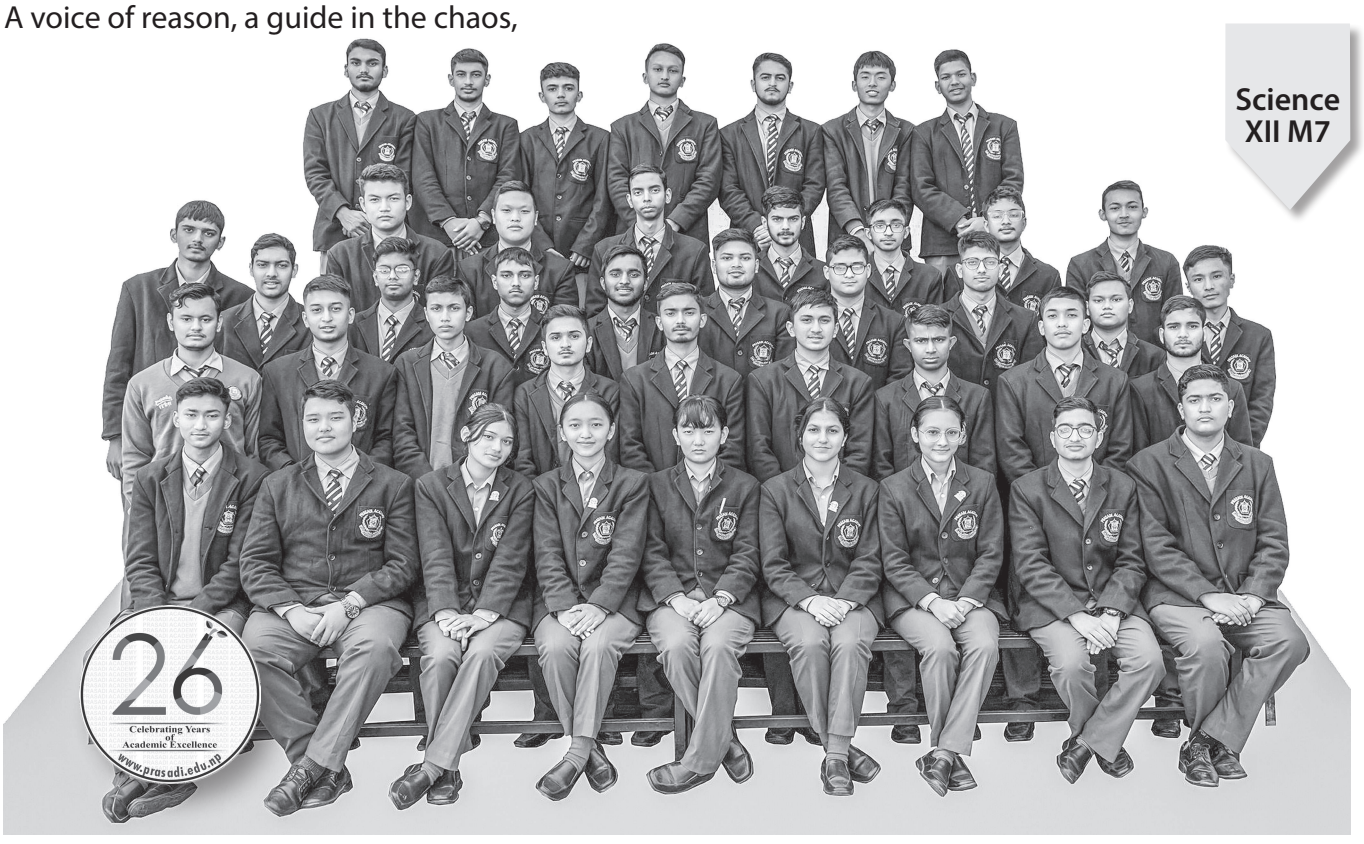
A FRIEND

A friend, a light in the darkness,
A comfort in my pain.
A hand to hold, a shoulder to cry on,
A shelter from the rain.
Oh, my friend, you mean the world to me!
Your love is like a symphony.
With every note, you play so sweetly,
You lift me up when I can't see.
A friend, a confidante,
A keeper of my secrets.
A voice of reason, a guide in the chaos,
A refuge in the bleakest.
Through the twists and turns of life,
Through the highs and the lows,
You have been my constant,
My anchor and my soul
Thank you, my friend, for all you've done.
For every moment we've shared.
You are a treasure, a priceless gem.
A gift beyond compare.



CELEBRATING DIVERSITY

Diversity is not only a reality of modern high schools, but it is also an essential component of our society. With students coming from diverse backgrounds and cultures, schools are now microcosms of the larger world. But it is not enough to simply acknowledge these differences. We must celebrate and embrace them to create a more dynamic and vibrant environment.

Every student, regardless of their race, ethnicity, religion, or nationality, has something valuable to contribute. Celebrating diversity also fosters mutual respect and understanding among students. By taking the time to learn about each other's traditions, cultures, and beliefs, we gain a deeper appreciation for human experiences. Although it may not always be easy, celebrating diversity requires us to challenge our own assumptions and biases and engage with people who see the world differently from ourselves.

Ultimately, embracing our differences and creating an inclusive community will result in a brighter future for ourselves and future generations. Celebrating diversity is a rewarding but challenging endeavor that requires us to be open-minded, step outside of our comfort zones, and work together to build a world that is truly equitable and just for all. So let us celebrate the diversity that makes us who we are and embrace the richness that it brings to our communities.

Becoming an Adult

Teenage. For many this is a spine-chilling stage of life. The phase of each individual life where one takes steps to become an adult. But at this age you question yourself, whether you are an adult or still a child. The reason to that is very simple. You go through different situations and hear bunch of stuffs where people say you are a so called 'adult' and the very next minute you become a 'child' for the same person. You rebel to some decision and you are being childish, learn to be mature. While on the other hand, you try to make your own decision and you hear, you are still a child, not mature enough to make such decisions yourself. This intermediate phase is whole lot of confusion and mess in each individuals' life. Full of doubts and confusion one shall live in a total mess. So was I and I believe you were too or maybe you still might be.

Until a few days ago I had this same confusion and had a bunch of gibberish thoughts which surely weren't being helpful in any possible way. There was no clarity for me. I had doubts about myself. Confused, muddle headed and dumbfounded all at the same time. Then came my 18th birthday. And this day I thought to myself, am I still the little princess of my dad and little fairy of my mom or I am a grown up just like them. A grown-up person who can make self-decisions and is totally independent. Late teen and I m still confused. Going back to the early teen I realized that there were times when I was expected to be an independent adult while the other times a child who is dependent on her parents. Not all decisions were made by me but I did make some. And there were many such situations to make me have queries about myself. I hope I am not the only one to go through this kind of uncertainty within themselves.

The very next moment I was struck with an idea. Its 18, the legal age in our country. So now I surely am an adult, I concluded. Well, I felt proud and confident suddenly. I thought now next step for me as being an adult is to become independent. But independent in what sense was the next question. This list of questions and self-doubt just never seemed to come to an end. After giving a good half an hour of thinking, I first thought I surely can do my chores and that's called being independent in one way but what about financially. I didn't have a job; I was just relying on my parents to support me financially till date. And I knew that my qualification wouldn't let me have any good job. I had no training, no skills or any sort of talent to lead me to a well-paid job. Then I again thought that I am a child. It is getting complicating is what I said to myself at this moment.

It is past 12, that is I turned 18 yesterday. It has been an entire day now. So, I decided to give it some more serious thinking before resting for the day. I really needed it to be honest because I knew it is going to make me restless the entire night now. I gave it a start and I needed to conclude it myself. But I didn't know how to come to the conclusion. I just kept tossing on my bed and feeling at sea. After some time, I heard a knock on my door. My mom came in and asked why wasn't I sleeping. Its past 1 p.m. That's when I thought she is person to whom I can share my concern and that's exactly what I did. Hearing me my mom just laughed out aloud and said I was being silly. She said that no matter what age a person is for their parents, they are still going to be a child. She told me that even if was 60 years old for her I still am going to be a child who needs her help and unconditional love. But at the same time, she said I indeed was an adult. Well just not because of my age but because I had a sense of responsibility in me and knew what I should be at what time. She said that being adult is never just about how old you are. It is about the developing maturity and being responsible which can be done at any age. Also, I was being childish staying up till late and I should go to sleep.

Well, I guess her words made me feel better and more self-reliable which I surely wasn't feeling until a while ago. But her words made me realize that being adult is surely more than just being 18. It has a lot in it and I was just an adult, early phase. I really do I am an adult like she said. But yes, being an adult isn't easy. It never was and it never will be. Instead, it goes with slow and steady steps. We all will become an adult someday. Surely not at the same age, but we surely will and I assure you with that. So, if someone makes you feel the same confusion don't stress yourself, time will teach you. There indeed is a right time for everything. Just have a little patience.

THOSE DAYS

In the halcyon days of our adolescence, when we strode through the halls of our high school with a certain irreverence and youthful vigor, we reveled in the knowledge that these were the years that would define us. The two years of 11 and 12, those precious seasons of growth and transformation, were the bedrock upon which we built our futures.

Each day brought with it a sense of excitement and possibility as we learned new things and forged new connections with one another. Our friendships blossomed like flowers in the springtime, and we found ourselves immersed in a world of laughter, love, and endless exploration.

It was during those days that we truly came into our own, discovering the depths of our passions and talents and charting a course for our lives that would carry us into the great beyond. Whether we were studying for exams, playing sports, or simply lounging around in the quad, we knew that we were living in the midst of something truly special.

And though the years have flown by and we have all gone our separate ways, the memories of those days remain as vivid and poignant as ever. We look back on them with a mixture of nostalgia and fondness, knowing that they were the times that shaped us and made us who we are today. Those were the days of our youth when anything was possible and the world was full of wonder and promise.

Success and Discipline

(Public Speaking Competition 2079)

"Discipline is the bridge between goals and accomplishments." A famous quote by Jim Rohn

Discipline is the art of self-control. It enables you to focus on your success, even when the tasks are less fun. Success is no accident. Success means having the willpower to do whatever it takes to achieve your goal. No matter what that means.

You gain power and command over your life and activities through discipline, which also provides you vigor, willpower, motivation, and inner strength. It equips you with the capacity to face challenging circumstances with calmness as well as the perseverance and determination to carry out your goals despite setbacks and obstacles.

To succeed, discipline is more important than motivation. Motivation is the desire to carry out a given task and do the required actions. It often serves as your primary reason to begin a task. The issue? You don't always have motivation. There will be days when you lack motivation and don't feel like accomplishing your chores at all if motivation is your main motivator. If you simply wait around for your desire to return, you will waste time and money and take considerably longer to accomplish your goals.

Instead, it's your discipline that defines you. There are many reasons why Discipline Is Important for Success.

Firstly, discipline creates a habit.

Habits can make you or break you. Discipline creates a habit in your life . People who are successful have the self-discipline to work hard and remain committed to it. And it turns into a habit. This is what attracts success in their lives.

Second, It helps you get things done.

To accomplish anything, one must practice self-discipline. You may promise to read a certain number of books or promise to finish a work by a certain date. When you have the self-control to complete everything, your personality is built around it. You become an achiever in your life because to this practice.

Third, it improves concentration.

We live in a world full of distractions. Discipline helps you to focus on your goals. People who are successful have sharp focus. They are always looking forward towards their goals and achievements in life.

Fourth; to become best version of yourself.

Success comes only when you deserve it. With the personality you now possess, success is not possible. You must keep improving. Self-discipline helps you to improve yourself daily. You get better every day when you practice something consistently.

This is why discipline is important for success and growth in life.

When you have discipline, you can handle and drive yourself very well without anybody else having to remind you. You don't need anybody else to manage your time or make sure you've followed through on your commitments

Life doesn't offer a fair playing field. Undoubtedly, there are factors that can both ease and inhibit our chances for success. Everything would be harder to complete, would require more time and effort, or you would just give up on your ambitions if you lacked discipline. This is true whether you're trying to grow a business, get in shape at the gym, learn something new, or study. Without self-discipline, you will just drift, get nowhere and accomplish nothing. With self-discipline, you can accomplish almost everything. Thus discipline is essential.

In Conclusion, discipline is the most important part of success. If you want to be successful in life, you need to have discipline. Otherwise, you will be knocked out by the people who are disciplined.

The funniest dialogue of sir which made me laugh and will make me laugh when ever I remember it..... • SLK sir's → bahh, nanu • UT sir's → huge smile with shining eyes BBP sir's → oii student oii • AKK sir's → have you calculator RPY sir's → dirty mind, vush... • SH sir's → I can't say anything about his dialogue because his dialogue is next level.

Memories: let me be honest, when I first visited Prasadi, I was shocked, exicted, helpless to start my college life. shocked — as prasadi was a little different from my imagination not in a bad or good way, just different. Excited - to make new friends and helpless about the new interaction. Because of my 'not taking the initiative' behaviour my family and school friends were worried if I could make new friends. And I am happy to announce I made new friends whom I will remember forever. And the teachers were all caring and understanding. I am happy to have joined Prasadi as Prasadi helped/forced my lazyiness to disappear, to take the initiative, to be active.

Memories :- My journey at Prasadi Academy started with Bhimsir giving us two pages full of rules. At first, It was hard at first but slowly, I adjusted. Coming at the end of session I realized that everything, the college dues, all the rules, monthly tests, homework checking, detention on coming late was for our own benefit. These things have taught me to become more punctual, hardworking, and dedicated. The picnic and time spent with friends from all the country have become my core memories I never thought I'd feel this way but I'll definitely miss Prasadi Academy

I faced my fair share of challanges and struggles, but those experiences taught me valuable lessons and helped me grow as a person. Looking back, I realized that I learned alot about myself during that time, and I'm grateful for the memories I made along the way. Overall, while it may not be the most enjoyable time, I still have a sense of appreciation for my time at Prasadi.

Memories:
It feels like I just joined here yesterday but now it's time to move away. It may sound funny, but the best memory of mine in prasadi was when I intentionally arrived college late because I had always wanted to experience the LC class. The fun part was that the number of students exceeded my expectations, and the four hours that I spent in LC class were the most memorable for me.

Message: College can be tough, so make sure to utilize all the resources available. That will definitely help you to succeed.
